

PORT PARTICIPATES IN NATIONAL NIGHT OUT

Tonight is “National Night Out” for the City of Oakland.

Mayor Ron Dellums and the Oakland Police Department invite Oakland residents to participate in the annual National Night Out to reduce crime—and strengthen neighborhood spirit and unity, as well as raise crime prevention awareness by helping neighbors get to know one another. National Night Out events will be held tonight between 7-9pm and can include a block party, barbeque, ice cream social or any other activity held outside that involves neighbors. At the Port, employees will be participating in block parties in their respective neighborhoods. Jack London Square will also support the City’s program by providing a family friendly program with a free flamenco jazz concert, and entertainment for children.
